Deep local expertise – Cross-border coordination

Corporate success is all about leveraging market insights and translating ideas into reality, backed by maximum legal confidence. With its strong, trust-based client relationships, extensive presence and highly qualified advice, CMS Hasche Sigle can help you achieve your objectives.

More than 600 lawyers, tax consultants and notaries advise clients ranging from mid-sized companies to major groups on all aspects of national and international commercial law. Over 2,800 lawyers across 46 international CMS offices in 29 countries plus nine offices in Germany deliver consistent, top-quality service, enabling seamless management of cross-border projects. In addition to our specialist legal expertise, you can rely on our in-depth knowledge of individual industries.

A long-established local presence in nine key German business locations and ever-closer links with partner firms in the international CMS organisation set us apart from other commercial law firms. Our assistance for you and your company is built around a comprehensive range of outstanding services and the personal commitment of the best specialists for your particular matter.

CMS Hasche Sigle [...] provides a 'full-service approach' to a broad range of industrial and commercial clients, and is adept at handling 'complex situations'.

Most extensive presence

Even in a large market, local business plays a pivotal role, so we have a presence wherever we are needed. Each CMS office is firmly rooted in its region as a leading law firm, with a track record going back several decades.

We can offer our clients a network that combines local expertise with the capacity to act throughout Europe. CMS Hasche Sigle contributes nine German offices and three international offices to this network.

Continuity and prudence are key pillars of our long-standing client relationships. In many cases, we have been supporting clients in an ever-changing environment for years.

Together with the wider CMS organisation, CMS Hasche Sigle is ready to meet the challenges of the global marketplace, both within Germany and beyond, backed by the wealth of experience and expertise you would expect from a leading European law firm.

CMS benefits from one of the strongest international networks of offices. In jurisdictions where we do not have our own offices, CMS has been working successfully with partner firms within the World Law Group since 1988 – CMS is a founder member of the Group. Clients can access the expertise of nearly 15,000 lawyers in 275 offices across more than 50 countries worldwide.

High quality advice

As markets grow and the number of competitors increases, requirements become more specialised. Standard solutions seldom provide an effective answer to complex issues. Clients who seek our assistance always receive individual, tailor-made advice.

This allows us to address factors that are not expressly raised but are nonetheless relevant. Our approach to legal advice is comprehensive. In addition to the direct needs of the parties involved, we take account of market conditions, industry knowledge and the latest developments. Our method of working is as individual as it is personal – the partner responsible provides hands-on care and coordinates the specially assembled team dealing with the matter. He or she selects the right combination of interdisciplinary and multi-location support to meet the specific requirements.

For you as a client, that means excellent advice and sustainable solutions tailored to your needs.

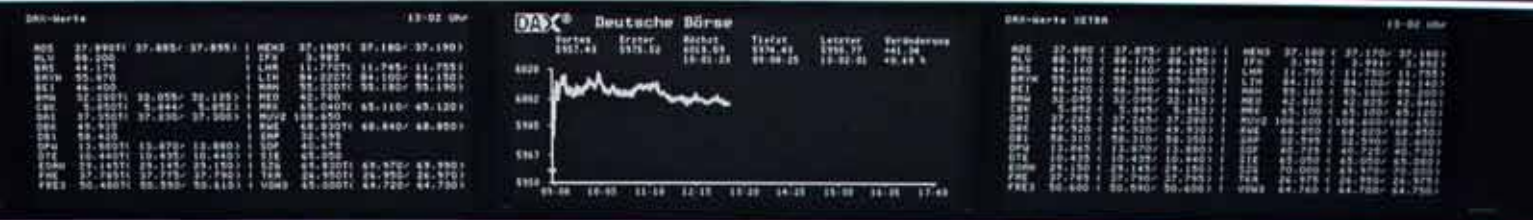

Strong trusted relationships

Diversity is a key feature of strong markets. Our clients include national and international companies from a wide range of sectors, including industry, commerce and service providers, plus public institutions.

We like working with CMS – the lawyers give us the impression we are important to them.
